County Official Actions in Response to COVID-19 as of August 11

Erratum (11/5/2020): In the original table published on August 20, Grant County was incorrectly categorized as having a mask mandate. However, Grant County passed a resolution on July 2 opting out of the state mask order. This change brings the number of counties with any restrictions down from 33 to 32 and the number of counties with a mask order in place down from 25 to 24, both as of August 11. Also in the original table published on August 20, McPherson and Rush counties were incorrectly shown as opting out of the school mitigation order. This change brings the number of counties that fully or partially opted out of school mitigation orders down from 26 to 24, as of August 11. The table below, as well as the accompanying blog post and map, have all been corrected to reflect these changes.

Information was collected through a survey in collaboration with the Kansas Association of Counties and is supplemented with online searches for published orders, announcements on social media and local news sites. Counties that have adopted restrictions are indicated in the table; however, official actions that use only the language of guidance (e.g., "should" or "recommend") are not considered restrictions in the table. For the school mitigation order, county commissions that have taken official action to opt out of some or all of the order, or have not taken action, are indicated in the table. Actions taken by local school boards or school districts are not included in the table. For mask orders, counties that either adopted an order by official action, or did not take official action to opt out of the state mask order, are considered to have a restriction in place and are indicated in the table. Cities that adopted a mask ordinance in a county that did not have a mask requirement are included in a separate table at the end of this document. Counties and cities may have policies in place that were not identified by this approach and therefore are not identified properly in the table. Information will be monitored, and the table updated as needed.

Number of Kansas counties that fully or partially opted out of school mitigation order = 24

Number of Kansas counties with public health restrictions = 32 (24 of these counties have a mask order in place)

Number of Kansas counties with no public health restrictions (but might have recommendations or guidelines) = 73
