Chrissy Bartel, Paramedic & Director, Norwich EMS and President, Kansas EMS Association (KEMSA)

Chrissy Bartel, an EMS professional with more than 20 years of experience, has a strong passion for pre-hospital care. With a background in frontline emergency response and a commitment to community-focused health care, she has become an advocate for Mobile Integrated Health (MIH) initiatives. Bartel has played a key role in developing an MIH program that bridges the gap between emergency services and preventive care in her community. She currently serves as the director of Norwich Ambulance Service and is the president of the Kansas EMS Association.

Justin Duncan, MSc., NRP, CCEMT-P, EMT-CP, FP-C, President, SHO-ME MIH Network & CEO, Washington County Ambulance District

Justin Duncan serves as the Chief Executive Officer for Washington County Ambulance District, a regional mobile health care system in rural Missouri. In addition, Chief Duncan serves as President of the Sho-Me MIH Network, President of the Missouri EMS Association, Chair for the Missouri State Advisory Council - EMS, Mobile Integrated Healthcare Sub-Committee, Chair of the Economics Committee for the National EMS Association (NAEMT) and committee member for the National Rural Healthcare Association, Government Affairs Section.

Chief Duncan has endeavored to maintain both breadth and depth in all his health care pursuits. He is a life-long advocate for EMS professionals, an ardent supporter of education, and is constantly looking for new ways to bring innovative therapies into the out-of-hospital setting. He is a fierce advocate for mobile integrated health care systems and driving change to ensure EMS clinicians are recognized as health care providers.

Chief Duncan is proudly considered a “disruptor” in the EMS and health care worlds. He constantly pushes to advance EMS systems and strives to be a catalyst for change in the health care world. He is a dedicated servant leader and strives to support those who take care of the ill and injured.

David Jordan, M.P.A., President and CEO, United Methodist Health Ministry Fund

David Jordan is the president and CEO of the United Methodist Health Ministry Fund. Jordan leads the statewide health foundation’s grantmaking, relationship building, policy development and advocacy efforts.

Before joining the Health Fund in 2018, Jordan served as the Executive Director of the Alliance for a Healthy Kansas, a coalition of more than 100 organizations working to improve health and access to health care in Kansas. He oversaw the Alliance’s operations and the effort to expand KanCare, Kansas’ Medicaid program. Jordan joined the Alliance after spending nearly seven years at Community Catalyst, a leading national consumer health advocacy organization, as the Dental Access Project Director.

Jordan holds a master’s degree in public administration from the University of Kansas and a bachelor’s degree in speech communication from Emerson College.
